FILM NOTES

HITCHCOCK TO FILM THE ENGLISH SCENE.

New Thriller to be Staged in Countryside and Coastal Towns

Nova Pilbeam to Star.

Completely different in background from any other film he has directed will be the new Alfred Hitchcock thriller scheduled for production at the Gaumont-British Studios early in March.

Hitchcock in collaboration with scenarist Charles Bennett has taken Josephine Tey's best-seller "A Shilling for Candles" and adapted it into a film story that will fulfil one of his cherished ambitions.

A girl is found murdered at the bottom of Beachy Head. The man under suspicion is chased by the police. The daughter of the Chief Constable assists him and they find an ally in a down-and-out tramp.

Though the story starts with a crime, Hitchcock is stressing the adventure aspect of this new thriller. In it he sees great possibilities of showing how colourful adventure may come to anyone in every-day life.

Hitchcock's ambition is realised because the entire film will be staged against the background of the English countryside and coastal towns in the south. The story moves swiftly through such everyday settings as lorry-drivers' Pull-Ups on the main roads, provincial workhouses, magistrates' courts, seaside hotels, country inns, rural police stations, farmhouses. Against such a background of England will race the three characters, the pursued man, the adventure loving girl, the cheerful tramp.

Nova Pilbeam will have the greatest role of her career and one which will afford her full dramatic scope in the person of the Chief Constable's daughter.

Other casting and the title of this new Hitchcock thriller will be announced shortly.

FILM NOTES

FLASHES FROM THE STARS.

John Loder, Oscar Homolka and Desmond Tester, three male stars of Hitchcock's "Sabotage", are now to be under direction of Robert Stevenson in the new G.B. air-liner thriller "Non-Stop New York".

Says Harold Huth, villain in Hulbert's G.B. comedy "Take My Tip":- "Dyed-in-the-Wool villainy is dead. Screen sophistication has killed it. We villains have got to be so charming and courteous today that the audience almost start preferring us to the hero!

For big Outpost of Empire scene in "O-Kay for Sound", Gainsborough foolishly issued Crazy Gang with revolvers and blank cartridges; Teddy Knox discharged his an inch away from the mike, necessitating new mike and almost a new sound recordist.

Negro children appearing in cotton plantation scene for Gainsborough's "O-Kay for Sound", troubled by the glare and bustle of studio; game of hide-and-seek organised by comedian Bud Flanagan soon brought back the smiles, put piccaninnies in a happy mood for filming.
